

Katie Ghidiu

Katie has made a career in library services and higher education administration and currently serves as the Director of Libraries at Monroe Community College. She has engaged in teaching, advocacy, and strategic planning for libraries; secured numerous grants; and served on a range of library boards and committees.

In response to the trustee position at Mendon Public Library, she shared:

“I would be honored to bring these skills in service of the Mendon Public Library’s mission, with the goal of supporting and continuing the excellent work already being done to serve our neighbors.”

Katie lives in the Town of Mendon with her husband, Dave. She values the role public libraries play in building strong, informed, and connected communities. She is also active in local education, teaching college success and computer science courses at Finger Lakes Community College and Monroe Community College. In her spare time, she enjoys running, backpacking, exploring local parks and trails, and volunteer coaching.
